Assassination of Col. R. Francisco Chaves Result of Politics.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 27 .-News reached here today of the assassination of Col. R. Francisco Chaves, probably the best known Republican politician in the Southwest, at Pines Wells, Torrence county, yesterday evening. Col. Chaves was the guest of a friend, and while they were eating supper a shot was fired through a window and the Colonel fell from his chair, dend.

Mr. Chayes took part in several Civil war battles in this section, especially in the battle of Valverde. In 1865 he was elected Delegate to Congress and served three terms. He had been in the Territorial Legislative Council continuously since 1876. Two years ago he was appointed by the Governor Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction, and was named by the Legislature of 1963 the Historian for New Mexico. These positions he held at the time of his death.

BIG CLOSING DAY.

Many Free Admissions Agreed on for Final of St. Louis Fair.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 27.-At a joint meeting today of the executive committee and the committee on ceremonies of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, a prelim-

Louisiana Purchase Exposition, a preliminary program was arranged for the closing day of the World's fair, December 1, and it was officially decided to name it in honor of the president of the exposition company, David R. Francis.

One of the features of the day will be the admission of children of 16 years and inder, free of charge, whether accompanied by an adult or not. Also all inmates of orphan asylums will be admitted free, regardless of age.

The principal exercises will be held in the Pluza St. Lozis, at the same spot where the opening exercises were held even months before. William H. Thompson treasurer of the exposition, will preside, and the closing address will be delivered by President Francis. The day exercises will close with a parade of all nations in the Plaza St. Lozis.

Only a tentative program has been arranged for the same program has been arranged.

Only a tentative program has been arranged for the night, but the gates will remain open until twelve midnight, and the illumination of the grounds will continue until that hour.

SALONICA, European Turkey, Nov. Z.

-The Bulgarian revolutionary movement has recently assumed such alarming proportions that the Sultan is sending Nazir Pasha to Salonica as special envoy, with instructions to take all the measures necessary to suppress the Bulgarian movement by the quickest possible methods. Ten battallons from Albania are expected here soon, and the Redifs probably will be mobilized in order to afford effective military protection in every village of Macedonia.

French Embassy Building Delayed. French Embassy Building Delayed.

PARIS. Nov. 27—Work on the new French Embassy building at Washington probably will again be delayed. Foreign Minister Deleasse asked for an initial appropriation. Minister of Finance Rouvier objected on the ground of economy, but finally conceded 25,000. The committee of the budget on foreign affairs, however, eventually struck this out, saying the amount would not permit of much progress, and that it was better to wait until the finances permitted of a more ample appropriation.

SMOOTITES ARE NOW RESTLESS

Things Do Not Work Smoothly.

Growing Belief That Apostle-Senator Has Made Bad Breaks.

Unwarranted Use of President Roosevelt's Name May Involve Him With Chief Executive.

Members of the Smootized Republican organization are not entirely satisfied with the political outlook. They have scored an immense victory over the Democrats but there is already crimination and recrimination. Some are growling because Reed Smoot declines to say whether or not he will recommend them for appointment of some kind. Others are angry because of the Smoot-Sutherand combination to control everything in sight. And a few are declaring that campaign funds were collected and diverted to private uses or to the election of a particular candidate while ignoring the interests of the others.

Some of the candidates, learning be-fore the election the methods of some of the Smoot leaders, declined to pay all of their assessments, and refuse to do so to this day.

President's Stand Annoying.

President's Stand Annoying.

All of these things have led to more or less friction. And the trouble is not lessened by the declaration of the President of the United States that he will pass personally on recommendations for appointment.

Mr. Roosevelt is nothing if not courageous. He has given a Massachusetts Congressman to understand that, while he will be pleased to consider recommendations for office, he will not remove an official whose record is a good one merely because a Senator or a member of Congress desires the appointment of some political lieutenant.

ongress desires the appointment of some olitical lieutenant.

The President makes this policy so lear that many a Congressman or Sentor will think several times before he trempts to railroad some political friend hrough wholly on personal grounds.

Locally, the President's ultimatum has even several men the cold shivers. They worked for the Smoot-Sutherland combins with fawning fidelity. They did hings reputable and disreputable in order to advance themselves into the favor of the spostle-Senator. Can Smoot Deliver Goods?

Can Smoot Deliver Goods?

Now they want their reward, and the Senator not only does not say what he will do, but they are coming to believe he may have precious little weight with this Administration after the American people are through with him. Smoot is boss in I'ush, but the office-seekers know that Utah is but a small corner of this great Government. The chances are that President Roosevelt now has a very different view of the methods in this State from that he had before the exposures of the Senate investigation list spring.

the exposures of the Senate investigation list spring.
Friends to the apostle-Senator have been pleased to tell each other that President Reosevelt very much likes Reed Smoot. They have interpreted the President's courtesy as a brotherly affection.
The President, doubtless, has given no personal assurance to Reed Smoot since the beginning of the Senate inquiry. No one who knows the President would believe he would do such a thing in advance of the findings of the committee. And when the claim of Smoot that he has the assurance of the President that he will not be disturbed reaches Theodore Rooseveit, it is at least an even bet that there will be some more rough-riding done.

Smoot in Hot Water.

Smoot in Hot Water.

Suppose Smoot were assured of the goo Suppose Smoot were assured of the good wishes of the President in this great trial and the confidence were betrayed, is there any man of sense that will not know the President would turn instantly on Smoot because of his infidelity?

It was said in Washington last winter that Reed Smoot was in disfavor with several Senstors because of a lack of confidence in him as a Senator. If President Roosevelt were to know that Reed Smoot and his intimates in Utah were telling that the President had prejudged his case—had assured him of his seat before the trial by the Senate—the President would make things smoke the first time Reed Smoot were to come into the executive presence.

There was a story current during the impalgn just closed to the effect that is Republican National committee, grough Gen James S. Clarkson, had ade a deal with the church by the terms of which the Mormon vote was to be given to the Republicans in Utah, Wyoming, Saho and Colorado. The beneficiary of his trade, according to the story, was to be one Reed Smoot.

First Told by Smoot's Friends.

The story was first given currency by close friends of the Smoot organization. It was intimated that such an arrangement was being made shortly after Gen. Clarkson arrived last June, and when he left town there was especial rejoicing imong the friends of the apostle-Senator. Whatever resmonsibility attaches to the Whatever responsibility attaches to the ory is traceable to the friends of Smoot. and criticism of such a compact falls or Smoot and his organization more than on the Republican National committee for the simple reason that there is no lirect evidence to prove the compact ave that which was supplied by the direct evidence to prove the compact save that which wife supplied by the friends of the junior Senator.

If there was a deal it is dollars to dimes the Fresident had no part in it. The probability is that the story was coined in the Smoot camp for the express purpose of persuading the people that Smoot is in high favor with the Republican National committee and expecially with Chairman Cortelyou, who is the President's right-hand man.

It was such a story as some of the Smoot crowd were capable of coining And these men, after they realized the capital that was being made of their clumsy work, had the gall to characterize a repetition of the claims they had nade as an attack on the President.

Thousands of Republicans in Utah felt then and feel now that if the President was a party directly or indirectly, to such a combine, he deserved and now deserves general condemnation, but these same thousands trusted Theodere Itoosevelt and voted for him and they are now among his staunchest friends.

Smoot a Wrecker.

Smoot a Wrecker. Reed Smoot would do anything politically, or as an ecclesiastic, to carry his

He not only permitted it to be given out that he had a deal with the National committee and an assurance from the President, but when Senator Fairbanks came to Utah in the interests of the National Republican party. Smoot and his hangers-on attempted to humiliate the visiting Senator by making of his visit a sort of adjunct to the Smootized Republicans who were in every sense his superior intellectually, commercially, politically and in every other respectable sense. He would have involved the In-

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The givers of the $240,000 to the Union Theological seminary, following an announcement of attitude toward the Westminster confession of fuith, are Morris K. Jessup and the widow of William Earl Dodge.

Mrs. Dodge has pledged $120,000 for the establishment of a chair for applied Christlanity, while Mr. Jessup, who is a direcestablishment of a chair for applied Christianity, while Mr Jessup, who is a director of the seminary, has given a like sum for the establishment of a professership of preaching.

At the same meeting at which the amendment relating to the Westminster confession was adopted, another amendment, it is said, was proposed, providing that candidates for the faculty or directorate of the seminary shall be members of an evangelical church. This amendment was deferred to the next meeting, which will not take place probably until Februar?

Rev. Dr. James M. Ludlow of Orange, N. J., a director in the seminary, today denied that the seminary had discarded the Westminster confession of faith in any particular. The seminary, he said, had simply provided for greater flexibility in the matter of teachings.

Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Hastings, professor of pastoral theology and ex-president of the seminary, entered a strong demurrer to the declaration said to have been made by Rev. Dr. David Schley Schaeff, professor of church history at the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny City, that the Union Theological seminary has substituted a new creed of its own. Dr. Hustings said that the removal of the provisions requiring a subscription to the confession by no means implied that the faculty thought less of the confession.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Regret is expressed in the London morning newspapers that there is no provision in the Angio-Russian convention for the punishment of those who may be found responsible for the Dogger bank affair, and the Morning Post sarcastically declares that Great Britain has created a precedent for permitting foreign navies to fire on British vessels with virtual impunity. Smoot is a wrecker. His path is lined with ruin. He uses men's embitions as stepping stones to his own progress. He would as quickly involve President Roosevelt in a controversy with the American people as he would bring criticism to his most insignificant partisan. He seems wholly devoid of the finesse of things.

The Heraid has taken a stand on the school question that is attracting much attention. In an editorial it introduces an indorsement of several candidates in this language:

'It is a matter of comparatively little importance in the approaching school election whether a candidate was named by the non-partisan conventions or by the American party, but it is important that the men elected should be progressive, clean, deeply interested in the city and its schools, and broad enough to ignore partisan or religious lines in everything affecting the public school system."

The Art of Letter-Writing.

When we come to personal letters, the most intimate and important of all, it may frankly be acknowledged that the Complete Letterwriter stops at the threshold. To put ourselves—our best selves—on paper, is the problem and there is no greater one in the whole range of human intercourse. Yet, if we fall, if we put a foolish or mistaken self on the page, the letter had better naver leave the desk. Hence comes the first law of personal letterwriting—do not try too much. Do not try to be as spontaneous as in conversation. Do not try to be as frank as when face to face with another. Consider the limits of paper and link. Suggest rather than explain, your feelings and ideas. Make the letter short rather than long. It is really hard to fall on a four-page letter; but if one does, a two-page letter is the next resource. If these two pages can be carefully written, in good English if they convey a sincere and pleasant message, if they contain nothing that offends—then that letter is not a failure, though it may not be a brilliant success. The thing to be avoided is the rambling letter, the indiscreet letter, the gushing letter, the insight letter—Harper's Bazar. nost intimate and important of all, it

Boy a Sightless Wonder.

Stephen Mellinger of Denver, Pa., does things remarkable in one who moves, as he does, in continual darkness. When Mellinger, now is years of age, was 2 years old he blinded himself incurably years old he blinded himself incurably with a hatchet. He has so adapted himself to his condition that he acts virtually as if in the possession of his eyesight. His mafortune has not been allowed to interfere in the least with his usefulness. His senses of touch and hearing are very keen. He works in the field. He sows, uses the rake and spade, and helps harvest the crops, milks, climbes trees, and, what is still more remarkable, drives spirited horses and rides a blcycle.

The boy is as bright and cheerful as any of his associates. He is able to harress a horse unaided and to drive several niles to the village where the household supplies are obtained. Every morning it is his duty to hitch a horse to a milk

On the Value of Fresh Air.

In the museum connected with the Ed-inburgh university is an exhibit that is a striking object lesson of the value of fresh air. A professor secured the lungs of an Eskimo, a Londoner and a coal miner. He has had them preserved by miner. He has had them preserved by chemical process, and they are now side by side in a glass case.

The Eskimo's lungs are pure white, the Londoner's lungs are a dirty brown, and the coal miner's lungs are jet black. The Eskimo has kept his lungs clean, not because he knew more about breathing than the Londoner or the coal miner, but because he lived in a land of snowfields and spent his time in the open air.—Chicago News.

kind I show a liquor dealer a sample of the other kind and sell him a bill of it. He doesn't know the difference, Ry whisky is made of one-half rye and one half barley malt. Bourbon whisky made of one-quarter rye, one-quarter barley malt and one-half corn. The difference between good whisky and bad whisky lies only in the effect the next morning. Poor whisky may taste as good as good whisky and may have as fine a bouquet and have as good effect on the spirits of the drinker; but the suffering and pain the next morning show that it was not the real, pure good stuff.

man can drink all the good whisky he wants and not feel bad ef-fects in the morning, but unless he is a judge-of which there are very few he will have to wait until the next morning to find out whether it was good or bad."-Evening Wisconsin

known Bayonne bridal couple at mid-night on Wednesday escaped the usual bombardment of rice, old shoes and slippers. The couple were Miss Jennie A Fox and Robert von Wallmenich. To ward midnight they prepared to leave on their honeymoon to St. Louis, and went upstairs to don their traveling clothes. Then the guests got the rice, elippers and shoes and waited. First the bridegroom crouched into the waiter and was slowly lowered to the cellar, When the bottom of the waiter bumped against the cement floor he signalled The bride was then tucked away in the waiter and lowered to the waiting waiter and lowered to the waiting bridegroom. Both sped to the yard, and across the lawn to a coach. Miss Emily Williams, a school teacher, when she heard of the escape, said: "It strikes me that we were the dumb

FUNERAL OF JOSEPH HESS.

How

Large Number of Friends Pay Honor to His Memory

Funeral services of Joseph Hess, a helper at the Rio Grande Western machine shops, who was killed Wednesday by a live wire while working in a boiler, were held at 12, noon, Sunday from the undertaking establishment of S. D. Evans at 203 South State street. The burial was in the city cemetery.

Mr. Hess, who was a nephew of A. W.

Sanders, was quite well known, and a large crowd listened to the address of Bishop Sneddon of the Fifth ward, who officiated at the services. The Fifth Ward choir and Rio Grande Shop quartette furnished the music. Lovely flow-ers were given in profusion by the fel-low-workers of Mr. Hess.

The deceased was about 25 years old and leaves a wife and three children, the eldest three years and the youngest six months old, and carried no life insur-ance. A subscription has been started which has netted about $300 among the Rio Grande employees alone.

WORTHY WOMAN GONE.

character, were held from the family residence, Sixteenth South and State streets, at 10 a. m. yesterday, in honor of the late Mrs. Mary Beatty, wife of F. H. Beatty and mother of Dr. T. B. Beatty. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Allison, pastor of the Murray M. E. church. A large number of friends from the city, as well as those of the immediate neighborhood, were in attendance

Mrs. Beatty was born 63 years ago in Wooster, O. She and her husband removed to this city in 1891 from Prince-ton, Ill., that they might be near their son, Dr. Beatty. The deceased was a woman of strong character, who was prominent in charitable works, and was highly respected by all who knew her. Her loss will be keenly felt in the church and neighborhood where her influence for good was directly given.
